City Public Works Managers Honored

New Braunfels, TX – Two City of New Braunfels staff members were honored at the annual American Public Works Association (APWA) conference in Austin on June 25th.

Solid Waste Manager Mike Mundell was awarded the APWA Professional Solid Waste Manager of the Year honor and Facility Manager Mark Zavicar received the APWA Professional Facilities and Grounds Manager of the Year award.

“These awards are given annually to inspire excellence and dedication by recognizing the outstanding career service achievements of public works professionals,” said Gene Calvert, Assistant Director of Public Works in New Braunfels. “Recipients are selected in recognition of exceptional management and leadership. They are also judged on their professionalism, innovation and customer service, among other criteria. These two individuals are a tremendous asset to our City and continually look for ways to improve service to our citizens.”

The American Public Works Association exists to develop and support the people, agencies, and organizations that plan, build, maintain, and improve communities. The association membership strives to contribute to a higher and sustainable quality of life for the people they serve.
