Ernest Eikel Park Playground Ribbon Cutting

New Braunfels, Texas – The City of New Braunfels will hold a ribbon-cutting ceremony for the newly installed playground at Ernest Eikel Park on Saturday, February 28th at 10:00 a.m.

The completed project includes an ADA accessible sidewalk connection to the existing sidewalk and new playground equipment. The previous playground equipment was removed and replaced due to new playground safety standards.

“We are thrilled to bring this much needed improvement to Ernest Eikel Park,” said Stacey Dicke, Parks and Recreation Director. “This is the perfect opportunity for residents to experience the new playground.”

The 4.1 acre park is located at the corner of S. Grape Avenue and Spur Street and also features a .27 mile walking path, pavilion, restrooms, JAWS Skate Park, drinking fountain, picnic tables, a basketball court, exercise stations and an open space play area.
