Emergency Notification Sirens Testing

New Braunfels, TX – The City of New Braunfels will be conducting a test of the eight sirens that make up the Emergency Alert Notification System. The test will be conducted at 12:00 p.m., Friday, May 20, 2018.

These tests are necessary to ensure the operational readiness of our Emergency Alert Notification System designed to alert our residents and visitors of any potential emergencies such as flooding or severe weather.

For any questions or concerns, please contact City of New Braunfels Emergency Manager Andrew Cardiel, 830-221-4270 or email acardiel@nbtexas.org.
