‘Check Out a Cat for Life’ Returns to Library — And We’re Not Kitten!

New Braunfels, TX — Purr-haps you’ve been thinking about it for a while meow. Or, maybe you’ve been waiting for just the right mewment. We’re pawssitive this is it—the purr-fect “Caturday.”

The New Braunfels Public Library and the Humane Society of the New Braunfels Area (HSNBA) are teaming up on Saturday, July 6th, to give area residents the op-purr-tunity to “Check Out a Cat for Life” and provide the animals with fur-ever homes.

That day, HSNBA’s kitten foster parents will bring in kittens ready for adoption. The fun will begin at 11:00 a.m. — following a cat- and pet care-themed Family Storytime at 10:30 a.m. — and will continue until the library closes at 5:00 p.m.

“Pet ownership has so many benefits for families, their animals and the community,” said Library Director Gretchen Pruett. “The HSNBA does wonderful work in this community through education and outreach, as well as caring for our community’s animal population. We support their mission and continue to partner with them annually to host a program that is fun and beneficial to all involved.”

HSNBA staff and volunteers will remain in the library for the day - with the kittens - and will be available to answer any questions about owning a kitten or cat.
