ETHICS POLICY

This section prescribes the Standards of Conduct and Ethics for all employees of the City of New Braunfels. Please note that is an ordinance adopted by the City Council and any proven violation could result in criminal prosecution and conviction of a class C misdemeanor. The Human Resources Director, appointed by the City Manager as the City's Ethics Officer, is charged with monitoring compliance within the organization and taking appropriate action in response to compliance related complaints. The Finance Department is responsible for oversight of financial reports and establishing and maintaining an adequate internal control structure with appropriate checks and balances. The Finance Department responds to any suspicions of fraud and investigates appropriately. Regular monitoring of the Ethics Point system for reporting possible ethical violations is completed to assist in the reduction of identified problem areas within the organization. The Ethics Officer will be primarily responsible for responding to non-compliance and taking appropriate action to prevent future violations of this policy.

It is important for employees to come forward to report any violations of the Standards of Conduct and Ethics. If a member of management becomes aware of or even suspects a violation of this policy prohibiting unethical behavior, they have a responsibility to promptly consult the Ethics Officer for a proposed course of action. Anyone who condones or fails to take appropriate action may be found in violation of the Standards of Conduct and Ethics. The Ethics Officer will be responsible for investigations; however, Managers/Supervisors may need to preliminarily investigate and talk with the employee, the employee's co-workers or others to resolve an issue. If they are unsuccessful or require assistance, then the Ethics Officer will be responsible for any further investigation. The resolution of some issues may affect more than one employee. The City will strive to keep any investigations and issues submitted as confidential as possible.

All employees must abide by applicable federal and state laws, administrative rules, as well as the City's Standards of Conduct and Ethics policy. An employee who violates any provision of this conduct policy is subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination, and possible prosecution. An employee who violates any applicable federal or state law or rule may be subject to civil or criminal penalties in addition to any disciplinary action. Employees responsible for purchasing on behalf of the City are also responsible for communicating to individuals and companies doing business with the City that they must Criminal background checks are conducted upon employment for all future employees in an attempt to avoid the delegation of substantial discretionary authority to individuals whom the City of New Braunfels knows or should know, have previously engaged in illegal activity.

Employees will receive ethics related training upon hire when reviewing the City of New Braunfels Policy Library outlining this policy, as well as training at New Hire Orientation. In addition, the Human Resources Department will conduct required ethics training for all City staff on a biennial basis. All employees will be notified when revisions to the Standards of Conduct and Ethics are made, as well as all other sections of the City of New Braunfels Policy Library. Council members will be given an Oath of Office and Statement of Officer upon appointment, as well as required review of the Open Meetings Act and Public Information Act and further Newly Elected Official training in accordance to these requirements, including but not limited to: City Council General Rules and Responsibilities, Standards of Conduct: Code of Ordinances, Section 2-1 through 2-5, Key Legal Requirements for Texas City Officials, and Chapter 171 and 176 of the Local Government Code. Council Members will also receive ethics training on a biennial basis.
