

Harry Bowers

Harry Bowers and his wife moved to the City of New Braunfels almost twenty years ago in 2002 to start their family in a community that shared their interest and values.

Within months of becoming a City resident, Harry was appointed to a City of New Braunfels board. From 2002-2018 he served continuously on either a City board or commission (Community Development Advisory Committee, Planning and Zoning Commission) until he was sworn in as a City Councilmember in May 2018. In May 2021 Harry was reelected to serve a second term.

Harry believes in working through partnerships and attempting to achieve win-win outcomes. He believes Council must promote citizen input and at times we can agree to disagree while conducting City business in a respectful manner.

Professionally Harry is a university faculty member. He has served as a faculty member /professional staff member at the university level for the past twenty-five years. He holds undergraduate and graduate degrees as well as a post-baccalaureate certificate in mediation.
