SECTION 4 SCOPE OF WORK

The City of New Braunfels is seeking competitive proposals from qualified companies to analyze the City's current parking permit administration, fee collection, and enforcement practices and recommend programmatic, technological, regulatory, and other changes to streamline operations. The City manages time-limited (2-hour) parking along several streets in the Downtown area, residential parking by permit only zones, paid parking (along rights of way and in parking lots within the City's park system, and a residential access (no fee to park) program.

The current paid parking program uses ParkMobil for payment collection for parking fees. Enforcement of paid parking is done by the City's Park Department Rangers using a manual, spreadsheet-based process. Time-limited parking is enforced manually by the City's Code Enforcement Division. Residential parking by permit only zones are administered (permits issued) by the City Secretary's office and enforcement duties are performed by the New Braunfels Police Department.

The City is seeking an assessment of current enforcement and administration (permit issuance) practices and an administration and enforcement plan that streamlines these processes, reduces labor hours needed for enforcement, and provides technological improvements.

The City is seeking a plan that provides specific information on turn-key solutions to improve end-user experience and allow customers to apply for permits, pay for parking or violations where and when appropriate, and ease enforcement with technological enhancements and software system integration.

The Consultant will recommend a system or systems that allow city staff to effectively manage the administration and enforcement of time-restricted, paid, and resident-only permit parking in the Downtown area, applicable neighborhoods, and possibly at the City's Parks and Recreation lots servicing river tourism.

It is anticipated that the plan will recommend a viable technological solution to reduce the time needed to enforce and provide notice of violations for paid, time-restricted, and permitted parking. The plan's technology recommendation should be compatible with the City's municipal court software to ensure effective processing of violations. Any suggested program should be able to integrate these enforcement systems with the Municipal's Court's current administrative and violation module in Incode Version 9.

Analysis of Existing Practices:

Currently, the City's enforcement and permit administration operations are split between several City departments. These include: the New Braunfels Police Department, Code Enforcement Division (part of Planning and Development Services Department), Parks and Recreation Department, City Secretary, and Municipal Court. Proposer shall provide the following in their analysis of current operations:

1. Review of current enforcement and permit administration practices to include interviews with the following City departments: Police, Parks and Recreation, Code Enforcement, Municipal Court, and City Secretary
2. Review of administrative procedures and relevant maps of time-limited parking areas, parking by permit zones, resident parking passes, and paid parking areas
3. Report summarizing findings, key issues, and recommendations for improvements including recommendations of civil versus criminal enforcement, permit issuance procedures, and any other administrative improvements

Recommendation of Parking Enforcement and Permit Administration System

The City is seeking a plan to stand-up and operate an improved parking enforcement department/division. The Proposer shall provide a narrative report outlining recommendations for a parking enforcement system that specifies hardware and software details, technical specs, and estimates of purchase costs. The report should address the recommended enforcement system’s capabilities to meet the following desired system functionalities:

Enforcement. Enforcement technology must allow for ease of use on handheld devices and/or vehicle mounted devices. The software should communicate regularly with a mobile app and permit database to ensure all information is up to date for paid parking areas, resident parking passes, and parking by permit only areas.

Permit Administration. The City seeks to move from paper permits to a digital registration system for resident parking passes and residential parking by permit only areas. The ideal solution would allow for convenient permit management for current permit holders, renewal notices, online applications and payments, and limited staff interventions to keep the permit database up to date. Enforcement efforts can also be assisted with a visual cue (placard, sticker, etc) placed somewhere on the vehicle, but this is not a requirement. The solution should allow reasonable users to update the license plate information on a resident parking pass or residential parking permit conveniently from a mobile device or desktop platform.

User Interface. Software should have an intuitive, well-designed user interface (UI) for City administrative use and external customers. The UI must have accessibility features as required by the Americans with Disabilities Act. The UI must be compatible with both desktop and mobile operating systems. City staff should easily be able to make edits to documents such as renewal notices and other communications without the need for additional software expansion packs or payment.

Data Reporting. High quality data is essential for the City to make informed decisions about parking operations and regulations. The software provided needs to have the capability to provide reports including, but not limited to, transaction reports, citation volumes and locations of violation and offender (interoperability with Geographic Information Systems), permit usage, and occupancy and turn-over rates.

Exclusions. This request excludes parking inventory/usage analysis or evaluations of the City’s existing parking zones, limits, regulations, or fees. This request is limited to development of an administrative process and recommendations of enforcement technology to manage the existing parking supply under the existing regulatory setting.

Technology Integration Requirements. Any recommended technology must integrate with the City’s existing paid parking management system (Park Mobil) and other current technology, including:

- Municipal Court, Incode Version 9
- New Braunfels Police Department, Spillman Flex
- Planning and Development Services, CityWorks
- Please note in your response if the integration with these systems is considered “out-of-the-box” or would require custom API integration.
